

MMUN students celebrate the UN Stand Up Against Poverty Campaign in Haiti

October 16th, 2009

October 16th, 220 people participated in the Stand Up Against Poverty Campaign organized by MMUN students from Boucledart school in Port-au-Prince, Haiti. Stand Up is an awareness campaign sponsored worldwide by the United Nations to demand world leaders to achieve the Millennium Development Goals (MDGs).

The students wrote an open letter to the president of Haiti and also had the chance to speak for one hour on the local radio to share with fellow Haitians about the global movement against poverty.

The letter to the president was read at the Stand Up event by one of the school's MMUN students, Matheo Valme.
